About us

We are responsive to our customer needs and devoted to customer satisfaction.

Customer service is our priority. We believe our success is due to our strong customer support and quality products. None of our products are 'grey market' and all carry the manufacturer's warranty. Some of our products carry up to a 5-year warranty.

Our systems are built with name brand components that guarantees reliability. DC3 Distribution provides a new level of personal service and support that are tailored to your individual needs.

A highly qualified technical department specialises in the repair of desktop computers, notebooks and printers and any other IT related problems.

DC3 provides comprehensive skills to support any small to medium size Microsoft-based computing environment.

Founded in 1989, DC3 started off consulting to the Engineering industry, and gave training to companies in computer equipment such as IBM and Olivetti to numerous large corporates.

Our focus changed in the early 1990's and we became a supplier of computer hardware and software to corporates and resellers.

We invite you to become a customer and experience not only the joy of personal computing but the safety and comfort of dealing with an established reputable company.

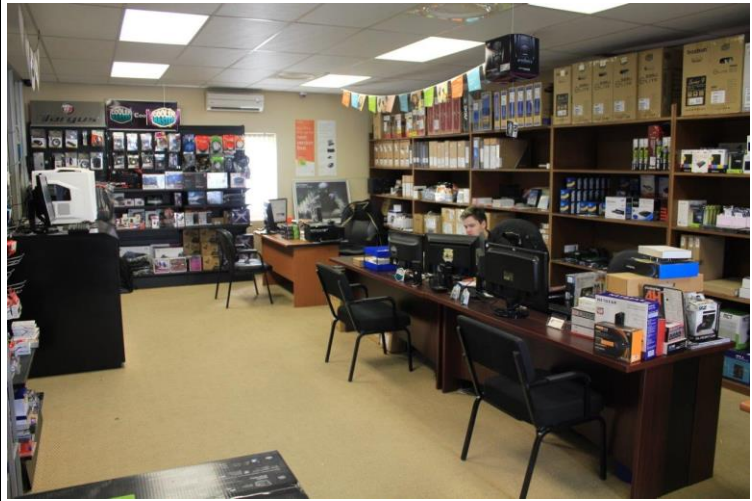

Staying aligned with the ever-changing market we accept crypto currency as method of payment since January 2018. A small service fee may be charged due to the volatility of Bitcoin but can be negotiated depending on the current market price.
